to the National Capital."

With the exception to Senators Martine and Heyburn, the bill encountered practically no opposition in the Senate.
Is had been bitterly fought in committes, ligibor men declaring that it would trasult in the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars invested here.

If the bill passes the House, there will he a wholesale aweeping out of the salocus which now don Pennsylvania Avenue. The measure has a clause regulaing harrooms to be not less than 16 fest abart. This, in most hastances, will mean not more than one saloon to a block.

Scores of small hotels will also get what in many instances may prove a death blow, by a clause prohibiting bars in connection with any hotel having less than fifty rooms. Heretofore teenty-five proms was the minimum.

Balcons in railway stations are flatly grohibited as is the running of any place where liquor is sold in a residential soction.

License Fees Raised.

All'told, the number of saloons now more than 360, will be cut by the bill to 380. Those that survive the legal decapitation will have the cost of their licenses raised from 380 per annum, to 18,560 per annum. The wholesale houses will have the pay 1800 of their licenses raised from 1800 per annum. The wholesale houses will have the pay 1800 of their licenses raised from 1800 per annum.
